EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA :::::: MARCH 20.

CORRECTION.—The Rev. W. T. Brantley will address the Sunday School Convention, in Marietta, on the first Sunday in April, and not to-morrow as has been announced. He will officiate in his own pulpit at the usual hours to-morrow.

☞ The New York Day Book mentions the receipt in that city of a letter from General Richardson, Commissioner of the Board of Immigration, giving the information that through the exertions of Mr. John Everett, of London, a cargo of first-class English emigrants will soon be landed at Norfolk from Liverpool.

☞ Judge Durell, of the U. S. Circuit Court, in New Orleans, recently, fined the clerk of the court $50 for filling a brief which was written upon less than a half sheet of paper, and in somewhat an illegible hand. The Court said no brief should be received unless written upon a full sheet of paper. The punishment of the clerk is looked upon as an implied rebuke to the bar.

TRIAL OF POLICEMEN.—Two policemen took it upon themselves last Wednesday, says the Montgomery Advertiser, of 19th, to arrest the two officers who brought the prisoner Chase from Atlanta. A negro man here claimed the reward offered for Chase, and the arrest of the Atlanta officers, who received the reward, grew out of the complaints of that negro. The policemen were up before the council yesterday, and a resolution was adopted to the effect, that they had exceeded their authority but were excusable as it arose from a misapprehension of their duty. The resolution returned thanks to Messrs. Murphy and Johnson, the Atlanta officers.

MANURE FOR POTATOES.—An exchange says the following receipt for potatoes is worth the price of any paper for one year to any farmer that is short of manure. It is as good as the best superphosphate of lime and it will not cost so much. It has been tried two years, and is good on dry land. Take one cask of lime and slack it with water, and then stir in one bushel of fine salt, and then mix in loam or ashes enough, so that it will not become mortar; it will make about five barrels. Put half a pint in a hill at planting. All manures containing potash are particularly suitable for the potato. Ashes contain more than any other fertilizer, and should be freely used and carefully saved.

REDUCTION OF THE CURRENCY.—The New York Commercial Advertiser says, the banks have presented about $2,000,000 in three per cent. certificates for redemption at the Sub-Treasury during the present month. The internal revenue receipts recently proved inadequate to the payments of the Treasury, and the result has been a reduction of about $5,000,000 in the currency balance of the Sub-Treasury since the 1st instant, which placed the balance at a lower point than has been touched in several years. We have no information as to whether the Secretary of the Treasury may well adopt any measures for increasing the currency resources. The decrease in the balance appears to have arisen from a transfer of a considerable amount to the pension department, and is therefore more apparent than real. Next month the Treasury will have large receipts from the collection of the income tax, and at present, we understand, liberal amounts are held at the other Sub-Treasuries, so that the decrease in the New York office may be compensated by transfers from other points. The Ways and Means Committee are understood to have recently expressed an opinion that it is unnecessary to keep such large currency balances in the Treasury as heretofore.

☞ The Louisville Courier-Journal's (Democrat) Washington special of the 17th says:

W. D. Simpson and J. P. Reed, Democratic members elect from South Carolina, in an interview with the President to-day, presented a memorial recounting the condition of the affairs of their State, the obedience of her people to the law, and their acquiescence in the situation forced upon them. The President responded that there was not a sentiment contained in the memorial but should be indorsed by every Union-loving, law-abing citizen in the country.

☞ The Chicago Tribune assigns good reasons for arguing that the price of wheat will be much lower during the coming year. It concludes by saying:

"The best thing that holders can do is to prepare to look their losses in the face as gracefully as may be, and decide to let go, lest the chance of selling be denied in toto. The supply is too abundant to admit of scarcity and sellers to the great world of consumers are too numerous to admit of holders being able to dictate in the matter of prices."

Special Correspondence of The Constitution.]

OUR WASHINGTON LETTER.

Georgia—Pardons—Tenure-of-Office Law—Cuba.

WASHINGTON, March 17, 1869.

The question of what will be done about Georgia excites much interest here.—Some of the Republicans urge a very extreme course, but even this does not meet with universal acquiescence, even in their own party. It is understood that the President favors a middle course that will allow of an amicable adjustment. There has recently been a disposition to await the action of the Georgia Legislature on the 15th amendment. To-day the result of the recent action of the House of Representatives, passing the amendment against the vote of the Republicans, has been received. The dispatch to the Republican papers here represents the Democrats voting for the amendment as expressing themselves in so voting, as intending to spite the North. The friends of Georgia, here, do not precisely understand why the Democratic members should give such reasons for their votes. If it was deemed politic to pass the amendment, it seems curious they should speak in such a way as to counteract the effect of their votes. But as this statement of reasons for voting for the amendment is found only in special dispatches to the Republican papers, it is thought best to wait for further intelligence on the subject. The tendency of this dispatch is to counteract the effect of voting for the amendment. Members of the Legislature should weigh their words, for they must remember if they talk imprudently they are reported in the next morning's papers in Washington. Individually the result may be nothing to them, but it affects injuriously the political interests of the State.

There is said to be a hitch between the President's first advisers and the Attorney General in regard to the President's right to withhold pardons already granted by the late President, but not actually delivered to the persons pardoned. Gen. Grant had revoked several of these pardons after they were in the hands of the Marshals. But Mr. Hoar, it is understood, takes the ground that it was too late for Gen. Grant to interfere.

The discussion in the Senate now progressing on the subject of repealing the Tenure-of-Office law excites the greatest possible interest. General Grant considers and so speaks of it, that its non-repeal implies a want of confidence in him. The Senators who have determined to force relationship of close amity with President Grant, and with the opponents of repeal to be ranked as enemies of Grant, are forcing the question to a vote. The friends of the President are not content with a suspension of the law, they demand its absolute repeal. Those Senators who are secretly discontented with General Grant, and want to keep him in leading strings, oppose a repeal. This question is considered as the test of loyalty to the President. The pressure upon the Senate for repeal is very great. The office seekers whose name is Legion, besiege the Senate for repeal; but appointments are delayed on this account.

Some knowing ones anticipate a stirring time soon in regard to Cuba. There is a strong party for helping Cuba, at least by indirect means. General Grant favors this policy. Hence, the resolutions introduced into Congress to acknowledge the independence of Cuba. OBSERVER.

N. L. ANGIER, STATE TREASURER.—However much this journal differs from Dr. Angier, politically, feelings of justice prompt us to say that he deserves the moral support of every man in the State in his efforts to guard the people's money against fraudulent expenditures. He is emphatically an honest public officer, a rare instance of fidelity to a high public trust, in these times of corruption. He has sternly, but dignifiedly, refused to become the mere automaton treasurer of Governor Bullock and his favorites. He recognizes the fact that he is the Treasurer of the State, and is responsible to the people for the correct performance of his duties—that he has a reputation of long standing as an honest man to sustain. He has made a noble fight with corruptionists, and his services in this behalf must be remembered by the people. He stands at the treasury door with a Damascan blade, and will not allow political thieves to enter to despoil the people of the public money.

We are willing to forgive Angier for his political wanderings, for the reason he has been so faithful and true to his official trust, knowing that a man of his probity of character will soon discover that he is in the wrong pew, in the wrong political church, in worshipping in the Radical synagogue.

We have known Dr. Angier for sixteen years, though not intimately. He has always been regarded as an honest man, and his official conduct has proven him worthy of the reputation he has enjoyed. The confidence reposed in him in private life has not been betrayed by him in his public career.

This much we feel called upon to say, as a journalist, in favor of a political opponent who has the honesty and the nerve to do his duty.—La Grange Reporter.

☞ The Weatherford Times of March 3d has been shown a specimen of copper ore taken from a mine in Archer county, owned by the Texas Mining and Manufacturing Company, that is far richer than any the editor has before seen. That paper says:

The company have a few hands at work at this time, and have sunk a shaft to the depth of fifteen feet, from which the ore was taken. Mr. Bowers brought in about 1500 pounds taken from the same shaft, and equally as rich as the specimens left at our office. The company intends shipping the ore to Baltimore. They heretofore shipped 1175 pounds to New York, where it was essayed at a cost of $29 00; from thence it was shipped to Baltimore, where it was smelted and sold, yielding a clear profit, after all expenses from the mine to Baltimore of $59; which, in appearance, was far inferior to the specimens before us. We have no doubt from the statements made us by Mr. Bowers, that the ore is there in abundance, and that it can be obtained without much difficulty, at least with less machinery, labor and expense than is required to work the Duck Town Copper Mines, and other Mines in the United States and New Mexico which are profitably worked.

THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT.—We saw yesterday a practical illustration of the 15th Amendment—a negro boy about eight years old, with torn hat and pants, riding on the bumper of a car passing through the streets, having in his mouth the stump of a Cuba-six, that he had picked up before a hotel door.—Constitutionalist.

THE GOVERNMENT OFFICES AND THOSE WHO WANT THEM.—The Federal offices in this city are a subject of much anxiety now to the friends of General Grant in this section, all of whom are patriotic enough to be willing to serve as assessors, collectors, etc., etc. That changes will be made in some of the offices, there is little doubt, and it may be that a complete sweep will take place. There are various reports respecting the offices and the candidates for the same, and we give them for what they are worth:

The Collectorship of the Port, the first and most important position, is talked of for Col. T. B. Robb, who, as Postmaster, has given great satisfaction. The Colonel desires, it is said, to get up one story higher, into a healthier atmosphere. Whether the wish will be satisfied, or whether ex-Governor Johnson will be retained, remains to be seen.

Mr. A. W. Stone, rumor has it, has been seeking the appointment of United States District Attorney as his reward for services rendered. Whether Col. Fitch's war record will find favor for him in the eyes of Grant, and prevent his removal, or not, the future will determine.

For the office of Assessor of Internal Revenue there are two candidates from this section—Col. Charles H. Hopkins and C. K. Osgood. The latter is confident of appointment.

The office of U. S. Marshal is vacant and P. M. Sheibly, who was clerk of the late Black-and-Tan Constitutional Convention which reconstructed Georgia, is anxious to fill it.

No names are mentioned in connection with the Postoffice, which will probably remain as at present, unless Col. Robb is promoted to a more important position.

We presume there are plenty of candidates from other portions of the State, but they are not talked of here.

The Collectorship of Internal Revenue, it is understood, will remain in the hands of the present officer. A. N. Wilson.—Savannah News, 19th.

THE CONFEDERATE DEAD.—Miss M. M. Blackwell is on a visit to our city, as an agent of the Georgia Memorial Association, organized for the purpose of removing the remains of the Confederate dead from the different battle-fields of the South to suitable cemeteries. She comes fully accredited by letters from Mrs. Isaac Winship, President of the Association, from leading editors in every part of the South, and from many of our prominent men. Her travels, labors and sacrifices in the sacred cause to which she is so strongly devoted are not less commendatory than the interesting documents of credence which she bears. As to that cause itself, we are sure nothing need be said to commend it to the warmest sympathies and largest liberality of our citizens.

Miss B. informs us that she recently went North on the same business which brings her here; that she let it be known plainly who she was, and what was the object of her visit; calling afterwards on the people of New York, Philadelphia, and other Northern cities, to receive subscriptions to the Memorial Association; and her report, in her own language, is: "I must confess that I never, in all my life, was better pleased with a visit."

She called upon Secretary Seward at Washington, and received a donation in money from him; and was called upon, while there, by Gen. Grant, who also made a liberal contribution.

Miss Blackwell has traveled through ten States since August last, on her present business, and gives a glowing account of the generous kindness with which she has everywhere been received. We have no doubt that her report from Texas will be equally creditable to our people. She is accompanied by Mrs. Bailey as an assistant.—Galveston News, 13th.

☞ When our lady readers ride on velocipedes, they must wear the following dress, prescribed by the "Velocipedist:" "Let the outer dress skirt be made so as to button its entire length in front—the back part should be made to button from the bottom to a point about three-eights of a yard up the skirt. This arrangement does not detract at all from the appearance of an ordinary walking costume. When the wearer wishes to prepare for a drive, she simply loosens two or three of the lower buttons at the front and back, and bringing together the two ends of each side, separately, buttons them around each ankle. This gives a full skirt around each ankle, and when mounted, the dress falls gracefully at each side of the front wheel."

☞ Almost every day we hear many persons complaining of headache, loss of appetite, and that they are not fit to do anything, etc. Many is the day that we have felt so ourselves, and in fact have gone to bed and imagined ourselves sick, but for the life of us could not tell what was the matter. One day while thus complaining, a friend said to us, "Why don't you try Plantation Bitters? they are really a good thing and will make you feel like a new man." Upon his recommendation, we purchased a bottle, and took them according to the directions. They seemed to go right to the spot, and gave us immediate relief. Ever since we have taken every opportunity to recommend them.

Our New Job Office.

We have an entire new JOB OFFICE, embracing presses, types, borders, cuts, rules and everything pertaining to a complete outfit.

We are prepared to fill all orders for plain, fancy and ornamental work, in the neatest style, on the shortest notice, and at the lowest living rates.

We respectfully solicit the patronage of our friends and the public generally.

FIRST VOLUME OF THE WAR BETWEEN THE STATES—By Alexander H. Stephens.—This work is elegantly bound. The author's name alone is enough to recommend it as a valuable work. Parties wishing to procure the above, can get it at the National Publishing House, Atlanta, Ga.

THE GEORGIA RAILROAD.—We had occasion, lately, says the Augusta Constitutionalist, to travel over the entire length of the Georgia Railroad, and can testify that it is in a condition unsurpassed, if equalled, by any Southern route. During the Superintendence of Mr. S. K. Johnson, the business of the road has increased and its stock appreciated. For six months past, nothing in the way of an accident has disturbed the even tenor of its course.

☞ The Radicals refuse to stand by their colored friends in Virginia. While they insist that Georgia shall be kept out of the Union because she declares negroes ineligible to office, they will not accept one as a candidate in Virginia, and repudiate the whole proceedings of their State Convention because a colored fellow-citizen was nominated for the office of Lieutenant-Governor. When will this hypocricy cease?

INCOME TAX.—As a matter of public interest it should be known that all income returns must be made on or before the first of April, remarks the LaGrange Reporter, and if any person fails to make a return of his income by that date, he will be liable to be assessed by the Assistant Assessor according to the best information he can obtain.

In such cases the law requires fifty per cent. to be added to the amount of the tax, and from the valuation and enumeration so made there can be no appeal. The law requires every person suspected of being liable to pay an income tax to make sworn returns, whether he has been supplied with blanks or not, notwithstanding the amount may fall short of $1,000—which is the amount exempted by law.

GARDENING FOR THE SOUTH.—Orange, Judd, & Co., of New York, have just published a very elaborate work on "Gardening for the South, or how to grow vegetables and fruits," by the late W. N. White, of Athens, Ga., with additions by Mr. James Van Buren and Dr. James Camak.

The objection brought against Northern publications of this kind—that they do not suit this latitude—will not apply to this book, which is adapted to our seasons, and is entirely the work of Southern men. It is very comprehensive in its range and systematic in its arrangement—a first rate book either for study or ready reference, and made more valuable by a large number of drawings.

ADVERTISING AS A COMMERCIAL FERTILIZER.—As guano properly applied to the soil causes vegetation to spring up and produce double crops, says the LaGrange Reporter, so advertising applied to business properly, produces active trade. We all tell the farmers to buy guano; the merchants who have it for sale, say apply the fertilizers if you wish to grow rich; every progressive farmer employs fertilizers in order to get richer. To the merchants and business men, we say advertise. It is the fertilizer of your business. Every wide-awake man understands the properties of advertising as a help to his business—his commercial prosperity. Our advice is, Planters, apply guanos to your lands! Merchants and business men, apply advertising to your drooping business. Both well applied will make this country rich. Advertising is the guano to success.

NEWTON, JASPER, JONES, BUTTS AND MONROE.—From a gentleman who returned to Macon yesterday afternoon, says the Macon Telegraph and Journal, from Monroe, Butts, Newton, Jasper and Jones, we gather some interesting news in regard to the planting interests of these counties.

He reports everything working finely. The ground is in splendid condition to receive the cotton seed. The planters are generally done planting corn. Wheat is looking finely. He heard no complaints for lack of hands. There seemed to be plenty.

He says the people of Newton county have guano on the brain. They are buying every pound they can, either for money or upon time. The house of John Merriman & Co., of Baltimore, have sold $115,000 worth to the people of that county on credit, and could sell three times that much if it so desired. The railroad depots are full of fertilizers. The people seemed to be perfectly confident upon the matter, and are counting upon a heavy crop of cotton.

Fertilizers are being more or less used in all the counties through which he traveled and he expresses the opinion that if the season is favorable the yield will be very large. But an interesting fact is they are generally trying to raise enough provisions to do them.

Money in the South.

The Financial and Commercial Journal says that the South, as the result of her last crop of staples, has bought liberally at New York, yet, strange to say, that the money that went forward to buy cotton, etc., has not all found its way back again to the great commercial and financial center. This is a good sign, indeed. Intelligent Southerners think that current trade indebtedness of the South in Northern cities has been discharged, and that hereafter she will have much over and above board to repair the ravages of war. The following is rather couleur de rose, we are persuaded, but it is a type, propably, of what is going on in the South. It is from the Philadelphia North American:

"Leaving methods of communication aside [by augmenting steamboat facilities upon the coast and upon the Mississippi and its affluents] it will be found that the same cause has been operating with nearly all of the industries they support or assist, and that are aided by them. It is commonly known that great tracts of sea island have been sold to Northern cultivators. It is known that colonies of Northern and of European settlers have located in Eastern Tennessee; in Western, as well as Eastern Virginia; in North Carolina, Florida, and Georgia. It is not so well known that the West has sent down brave representatives of its thrift along both banks of the Mississippi and those of its affluents. Those who have gone have almost invariably bought land, and whether they settled in one section or in another, they have put their hands to the work with a vigor that is capable of some appreciation. Great tracts of lumber land have been bought in Florida, in Georgia, in Carolina, and in other States. Saw-mills have been erected and put at work. It only requires a few moments attention to see that the amount of their shipments indicates the distribution of a great deal of money and the rapid accumulation of capital; for while the sale of the lands themselves affords means to the sellers, the work so instantly done upon them is represented in wages to the workmen.

"Another matter that has invested much, and will take more capital, is the business of market-gardening, pursued as never before, all the way from Hatteras to Cape Florida. There are no statistics of this; and yet the receipts of early fruits and vegetables here and at other cities enlighten us to the fact that the business is being prosecuted more extensively and intelligently than ever.

"The mining of coal, iron, oil, and gold that is under weigh pays its quota of tribute to Northern aid as well as to general improvement. The work is limited to no State. In Tennessee the marble quaries again resound to hammer and drill, and are sources of wealth. North Carolina gold, that was coined in this city and at branch mints to the amount of $12,000,000 before the war, is being again more intelligently sought; and perhaps an excess of attention has been directed to it. But the iron and coal mines of Georgia and Tennessee are not neglected. Our own State and our own city have sent enterprise and means to develop them, and they are worked at the beginning as never before with the certainty of a steady increase. These employments have built and sustain large establishments at many of the ports, besides furnishing country stores more thoroughly.

"And yet we have not adverted to the cultivation of cotton, of tobacco, of rice, or of cane, in each of which staple interests there has been a notable improvement, and in all of which the North has had a share. Nor have we alluded to agriculture as a whole, now being better prosecuted, as well as more extensively, than ever. And yet it is reckoned, that after supplying all Southern demands for a year, there will be a surplus of wheat, rye, and barley, as well as of rice and corn for export.

"These are the basis for Southern prosperity, and for all of the benefit to the North that the North can calculate. We may add to them that Northern manufacturers of cotton and iron, as well as of lumber, have gone, and continue to go, where they think there are advantageous openings for them. * * *

And as fresh energy is added to the awakening industry of the Southerners, as the various fields for profit are explored and improved, as capital is made more abundant, as labor is better paid, as intelligence is more diffused, as exchange is quickened and cheapened, we may look for every advantage to ripen rapidly to the mutual good of the South and the North, and the profit of the whole country. We speak of these enterprises and of this promise now with confidence."

SOUTHERN SECURITIES.—The New York Herald, of the 15th, says:

Southern securities were, in general, higher and firm in tone through a sympathy, more or less defined, with Government bonds. The Southern States all manifested a disposition to pass a law requiring agents of outside insurance companies to deposit State bonds as security with the State authorities. The demand which this measure has and will create for Southern bonds is another source of strength in the market.

The Rev. Mr. Price, of Virginia, is in Augusta, with a view of securing contributions to the Jackson Female College, located at Abingdon, Va. This institution is designed as a tribute to the memory and worth of General "Stonewall" Jackson, and commends itself to the fostering care and patronage of the Southern people everywhere.

A LITTLE MISTAKE.—A worthy deacon, in a town somewhere in North America, gave notice at a prayer-meeting, the other night, of a church-meeting that was to be held immediately after, and unconsciously added: "There is no objection to the female brethren remaining!" This was equaled by a clergyman who told in his sermon of a very affecting scene, where "there wasn't a dry tear in the house!"

The Hamburg and New York Steamship Company have the following extra steamers at the reduced rates of $100 in gold for the first cabin, $60 for the second cabin, and $25 for the steerage, to sail from New York to Europe as follows: Saxonia, 21st May; Bavaria, 28th May; Teutonia, 11th June; Borussia, 18th June; Saxonia, 2d July; Bavaria, 9th July.

Mrs. Kelly, of Black Brook, New York, is thirty-eight years old, has been married twenty-one years, and is the mother of nineteen children without ever having twins, the youngest child being thirteen months old. There is but ten months difference in the ages of the first born and the second born child.

"After suffrage, what?" was the subject of a lecture recently given in Crawfordsville, Ind., by Miss Lizzie Boynton. She received the answer by express—a pair of trousers, a jacket, and a dull razor.

C. A. Laws, of the United States Revenue Cutter service, has been ordered by the Honorable Secretary of the Treasury, to report for duty on board the steamer Nansemond, at Savannah.

Wallace-Darden Affair.

A cowardly assassination occurred a few days ago at Warrenton, Georgia. It differed from the Grant-Pollard affair at Richmond in two respects only—the shallowness of the motive and the fate of the murderer. The facts, as they reach us, are that, on Friday last a Dr. Darden shot with a rifle, from the second story window of a house, a Mr. Wallace, killing him instantly. The assassination grew out of a personal difficulty between the parties. Wallace, who was editor of the Warrenton Clipper, had applied for admission to the Masonic Lodge in that town, and Darden had promised to support his application. Instead of doing this he black-balled Wallace, and the latter in turn denounced Darden in the columns of the Clipper as "a liar and a scoundrel."

In consequence of this publication Darden laid in wait for Wallace, and killed him in the manner already described. Darden surrendered himself soon afterwards and was lodged in Warrenton jail. The dastardly manner in which Wallace had been shot gave rise to great excitement in the neighborhood, and at night a party of men, disguised, forced the jail, took Darden from it, and carrying him a short distance off, shot him dead.

The occasion was one which the Radicals determined to seize upon, and turn, if possible, to their own advantage. Telegrams were accordingly sent North from Atlanta to the Chronicle, at Washington, and the Tribune, at New York, describing the assassin Darden as "a highly respectable and wealthy citizen," and his victim as "a man named Wallace, the editor of a Ku-Klux journal at Warrenton." The men who took Darden from jail and put him to death, in retaliation for the crime he had perpetrated, are designated as "a band of KuKlux;" whilst Darden is said to have been "barbarously murdered by these "savages." But the pith of the telegram is in the closing lines. "Loyal men," says the Tribune correspondent, "now exclaim: "How much longer must we wait for the organization of a legal and loyal Legislature, that will pass laws to protect our lives, and which the military, under orders of a loyal President, can assist in carrying out?"

Now whilst this telegram, insidiously intended to stir up anew the passions of the North, was being sent from Atlanta—two hundred miles distant from the scene of the tragedy—another telegram was passing over the wires from Augusta—only two hours' ride by rail from Warrenton—which entirely disposed of the malignant insinuations that the Tribune and other journals of the same stripe were so swift to publish. That telegram stated distinctly that Wallace and Darden were both Democrats; that the affair grew out of a purely private quarrel, and that politics had nothing to do with it. But the Tribune, as well as the American of this city, meanly suppressed the telegram from Augusta, where, from proximity to Warrenton, the facts were most likely to be correctly reported, but published, with startling head-lines, the telegram from Atlanta, which is as remote from Warrenton as New York is from Baltimore.

But assuming that Darden was a loyalist and a scalawag, are we to understand that his crime was the less heinous? Was the killing of Wallace by a man in ambush justifiable because the victim was a Democrat and could be complacently stigmatized as a Ku-Klux?

Is Darden to be commiserated for the fate which he himself provoked because he is said to have been "wealthy" and "highly respectable?" Whether Democrat or Radical, rich or poor, the man had done a felon's act, and died a felon's death. There is no question, as to the nature of his crime, no doubt that he was the perpetrator of it, no denial that from his safe hiding place he singled out his victim and shot him down as he would a dog. What has politics to do with a matter of this kind? The only real point at issue is that the ends of justice were defeated by taking Darden from the jail and putting him to death prematurely. This was undoubtedly a gross outrage on the part of those concerned in it. They boldly violated the law and they deserve to be punished.

But it does not do for the Radicals to denounce as a crime at the South what they seem to regard as a venial offence elsewhere. Lynch law is not peculiar to the South. In Indiana it appears to have become a recognized institution. Gangs of disguised white men break into prisons there, take from the custody of jailors and sheriffs men accused of robbing an Express Company, and hang them without trial or even an positive certainty as to their guilt. It is but a few days ago that the New York Times took occasion to say, with singular mildness:

"The extraordinary prevalence of crime in the State of Indian, ought to lead the authorities there to make something like a serious attempt to enforce the laws. Twenty-ore murders in ten days in a State whose population does not exceed that of New York and Brooklyn is something frightful and surpasses the experience of any of the Southern States, even Texas itself. In ten of these cases only were the murderers arrested; in five others they were known to the authorities, but escaped and in six cases the assassins are unknown."

With equal impunity gangs of negroes in North Carolina, Alabama, Arkansas and Tennessee shoot white men in the midst of their families, or take them out into the woods and hang them. Organized bands of negroes also patrol the roads out of Savannah, shoot down deliberately the officers of the law, plunder the plantations on the Ogeechee river, rescue their fellows from the hands of the Sheriff, and rob both him and his posse and these doings are either touched upon lightly in the Radical journals, or are perverted, as in the case of Darden, to the basest political uses for the purpose of exciting anew the bitter animosity of the North towards the South. The names of a few white men are cited as conclusive evidence of the rancor, hatred and utter lawlessness of the great body of the Southern people, whilst the tenfold number of crimes that stain the annals of the Northern and Western States are regarded as only a part of the normal condition of things in populous communities, and as having no special significance whatever.—Baltimore Gazette, 18th.

A Southern paper is opposed to the education of women as surgeons. It says that suppose one were put under the influence of chloroform by such a doctor, "what is to prevent the woman from kissing you?"

If such a thing was anticipated, the whole editorial corps of Atlanta would seek to be put under the influence of chloroform.

Upon embarking, recently, for Algeria, the French Marshal McMahon said to the officers who accompanied him to the steamer: "I shall soon return. Before the 31st of May the cannon will have thundered on the banks of the Rhine, and on those of the Danube."

Black-eyed ladies are most apt to be passionate and jealous. Blue-eyed, soulful, truthful, affectionate and confiding. Gray-eyed, philosophical, literary, resolute, and cold-hearted. Hazel-eyed, quick-eyed, quick-tempered and fickle.

☞ "The moon," said a total abstainer, "is not quite a teotaler, but she lets her moderation be known to all men, for she only fills her horn once a month. "Then she fills it with something strong," observed a bystander, "for I have seen her half gone!"

A meeting of locomotive engineers was held in Macon, on the 16th. An address was delivered by Mr. Charles Wilson, of Rochester, New York, Grand Chief Engineer, of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers of the United States.

ASSOCIATED PRESS DISPATCHES

FROM WASHINGTON.

CONGRESSIONAL.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—SENATE—Mr. McDonald introduced a bill to aid the construction of a railroad from the junction of the Mississippi and Missouri river to the Mexican border.

A committee of seven were appointed on political disabilities, viz:

Robertson, Chairman, Osborn, Hamlin, Howe, Ferry, Boreman and Vickers.

The Tenure-of-Office Act was discussed to adjournment without action.

HOUSE.—No session.

In the appointments of the Committees, Mr. Robertson was made Chairman of the Committee for the removal of political disabilities, indicates that a stringent examination of the cases have been made in all the cases, and favors a few.

Mr. Robertson recently remarked, regarding the reports in the North Carolina papers, that he was tending toward Democracy, that on the contrary, he and his colleague were as fully Radical as ever.

No nominations were made to-day.

There were several confirmations to-day, but none of them affecting the South.

The Committee on Commerce reported favorably for Mr. Casey, as Collector of Customs at the port of New Orleans.

The Committee reported back General Longstreet's nomination without any recommendation.

The Executive Session took no action in either case.

Pullock, Secretary of the Republican Congressional Committee, has been appointed appointment Clerk of the Treasury. The discussion, to-day, looks more favorable to a repeal. It is thought the discussion will be prolonged to next week.

NORFOLK, March 20.—The steamer Don, from New York for Havana, is here with her propeller disabled.

CHARLESTON, March 20.—The Legislature, after a severe contest involving several millions of dollars of State bonds, assistance to railroad enterprises, between interested parties for the railroads, on the one side, and the Governor and a number of members of the Legislature, opposed to granting State aid, has resulted in a grand defeat of the railroad schemes, and the General assembly will adjourn sine die on the 24th.

NEW YORK, March 20.—Erie and Housatonic railroad companies have abandoned the package business and restored facilities to Express Companies.

Wm. Tweed was appointed receiver of the Union Pacific Railroad Company pending the suit of Jas. Fisk against the Company

TALLAHASSEE, March 20.—Pensacola and Georgia Railroad, and the Tallahassee Railroad were sold to-day at public sale. The first was knocked down at $1,220,000; the last named at $195,000, to F. Dibble and Associates—$60,000 to be paid on taking possession, and the balance as called for by the Trustees of the Internal Improvement Fund.

HAVANA, March 20.—On yesterday sugar was advancing, with more buyers than sellers.

MADRID, March 20.—The disturbances at Jerez de la Frontra have been quelled.

HAVANA, March 20.—The baggage of the Fernando Po prisoners has gone aboard the steamer. The expedition sails positively to-morrow.

LONDON, March 20.—The Irish Church disestablishment debates last night were at great length. The principal speaker in favor of the measure was John Bright.

READ, O WOMAN!—As health is the greatest blessing on earth, so is disease the greatest curse. The first wish of the heart, therefore, in a temporal view, should be health. Nor is this all. As disease renders us unfit to perform the various duties appropriate to our station in life, there is a moral obligation resting upon us to preserve our physical integrity, by using the means at hand for repelling disease.

Now there is nothing so destructive to health in females as a continued suppression of the menses It is a condition which makes a woman useless to herself and a burden to her friends. Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator, Woman's best Friend, is the only certain cure. Lose not a moment in embracing the remedy. feb14-tf

PROCLAMATION.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, ATLANTA, GA., March 19, 1869.

To the Sheriff, or his Lawful Deputy, of Richmond County:

WHEREAS, On the 19th day of February, A. D. 1869, Priscilla Lee was brought before W. Milo Olin, Justice of the Peace in and for the county of Richmond, upon affidavit of one George W. Broadhurst, charged with the offense of larceny, and was then and there, for said offense, after having waived an indictment by the Grand Jury of said county of Richmond, sentenced to be imprisoned in the common jail of the county of Richmond, and to be employed at hard labor on the public works for the term of three months, and upon discharge therefrom to pay all costs of prosecution and jail fees; and

WHEREAS, A petition signed by the Hon. W. Milo Olin, the officer presiding at said trial as aforesaid, has been presented to me, recommending favorable action in her case and asking the remission of the unexpired part of the said term of imprisonment, setting forth that MR. Robert Douglass, a respectable citizen of said county of Richmond feels desirous for the reformation of the said Priscilla Lee, and is willing to give her permanent employment:

Now, therefore, considering this to be a proper case for Executive interposition and believing that the ends of justice in her case have been attained, by the punishment already inflicted; it is ORDERED, That the said Priscilla Lee be, and she is hereby fully pardoned of the offense with which she stands charged, that the unexpired part of the said term of imprisonment together with all costs and jail fees in and by the said sentence imposed as aforesaid upon the said Priscilla Lee, be, and the same are hereby remitted, and that she be forthwith discharged and set at liberty.

Given under my hand and the Seal of the Executive Department, at the Capitol, in Atlanta, the day and year first above written.

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF GEORGIA,

BY RUFUS B. BULLOCK, GOVERNOR OF SAID STATE

WHEREAS, On Friday, the 12th day of March instant, one July Martin, a boy of seventeen years of age, was, under and by virtue of a warrant, arrested and placed in confinement in the county jail of Murray county at Spring Place, in said county, to await investigation of an offense with which he stood charged, which investigation was set down for the Monday next ensuing; and

WHEREAS, The keys of said jail were in possession of S. B. McCamey, jailor of said town and county, who, at or about the hour of eleven o'clock on the night of said Friday, the 12th instant, was aroused by the clamors of an unauthorized and unlawful body of masked and armed men, who, presenting loaded pistols at the person of said S. B. McCamey, jailor as aforesaid, did demand of him the delivery to them of the keys of the said jail; and

WHEREAS, Through fear, the said jailor did deliver said keys to the said unauthorized and unlawful band of masked and armed men, who, upon such delivery did open and enter said jail, and forcibly and unlawfully seize and take therefrom the said July Martin, and carry him of; and

WHEREAS, On the Saturday morning next succeeding said Friday the body of the said July Martin was discovered dead, hanging by the neck from the limb of a tree; and

WHEREAS, The Coroner's jury impanneiled to pronounce upon the cause of death of the said July Martin, did render a verdict that he came to his death through hanging, by some person or persons unknown:

Now, therefore, I, Rufus B. Bullock, Governor of this State and Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy and of the militia thereof, do hereby issue this, my proclamation, offering a reward of FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS for the apprehension, with evidence which will lead to the conviction, of the person or persons perpetrating the murder above mentioned.

Given under my hand and the great Seal of the State, at the Capitol, in the City of Atlanta, this nineteenth day of March, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-nine, and of the independence of the United States the ninety-third.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE

GRAY JACKETS,

AND how they lived, fought and died for Dixie. With incidents and sketches of life in the Confederacy, comprising narratives of personal adventure, army life, naval adventure, home life, partizan daring, life in camp, field and hospital, together with the songs, ballads, anecdotes, and humorous incidents of the war for Southern Independence.

There is a certain portion of the war that will never go into the regular histories, nor be embodied in romance or poetry, which is a very real part of it, and will, if preserved, convey to succeeding generations a better idea of the spirit of the conflict than many dry reports or careful narratives of events, and this part may be called the gossip, the fun, the pathos of the war. This illustrates the character of the leaders, the humor of the soldiers, the devotion of women, the bravery of men, the pluck of our heroes, the romance and hardships of the service.

The valiant and brave hearted, the picturesque and dramatic, the witty and marvellous, the tender and pathetic, and the whole panorama of the war are here thrillingly portrayed in a masterly manner at once historical and romantic, rendering it the most couple, unique, brilliant and readable book that the war has called forth.

Amusement as well as instruction may be found in every page, as graphic detail, brilliant wit, and authentic history, are skillfully interwoven in this work of literary art.

Send for circulars and see our terms, and a full description of the work. Address

T. C. CHAMPE, Merchant Tailor, is in receipt of his spring stock, consisting in part of the most beautiful shades of Cloths and Cassimeres, all of which he will sell at very low figures for cash only. All work done to order and in the best style. No fit, no pay. Renovating and repairing done, also. march12-d3w.

THE SPENCER HOUSE.—At Social Circle there is a most excellent Railroad Hotel, under the management of as clever gentlemen as the sun ever shone on, the Messrs. Spencers. It has recently been fitted up in magnificent style, and at great cost for the reception of the traveling public. The proprietors spare no pains in making guests comfortable. We learn that passengers for the Athens and Washington branches, to avoid night travel, stop over at this house.

BLANKS.—Sheriff's Deeds, Sheriff's Forthcoming Bonds, Superior Court Subpœnas, Land Deeds, for sale at this Office. mar6-dtf

P. H. SNOOK & Co., are receiving the largest stock of Fancy Dress Goods ever offered in Atlanta, direct from New Orleans, La. mar21-dit.

PRESENTATION OF A CANE.—Hon. Thos. J. Speer, Senator from the 22d district was yesterday presented by A. E. Marshall, M. A. Hardin, J. C. Hendrix and J. G. W. Mills with a fine ebony walking-cane, mounted with a massive gold head. The cane was a beautiful one, and costy fifty dollars. Appropriate speeches were made on the occasion. Differing as we do politically, with Senator Speer, yet we cannot withhold the expression of our opinion, that this testimonial was well-deserved on his part.

BACON, Corn, Lard, Flour, &c. Full Stocks—Western Prices with Freight added. LANGSTON, CRANE & HAMMOCK, mar18-d3t Alabama Street.

PERSONAL.—We were pleased to grasp by the hand yesterday evening, our friend and former fellow-citizen, Dr. Joseph P. Logan, now of Baltimore, who is here on a short visit. We were glad to see him in such physical trim.

It was also our good fortune to meet with Dr. S. H. Stout, well known to the people of this city during the war as Surgeon of the Post, which he filled with so much honor and ability. May his shadow never grow less, and may he continue stout!

AGENTS make from $200 to $300 per month by selling Sewing Machines for S. M. TOLIVER & CO., mar3-d6w Address them at Franklin, Ky.

THE MARKETS.—We paid a visit to the second Market yesterday evening, and were pleased to see the evidences of material improvement. The inside of the market has been whitewashed and renovated, and presents a neat and clean appearance. There are six meat stalls, two fish stalls, three vegetable stalls, and one huckster's stall, with a full supply of vegetables. We learn that the Market Committee design to completely renovate both markets and make them places of attraction to our citizens. In cities of less population than Atlanta the markets are a great place of resort. Why should it be otherwise here?

It is reported in Macon that J. Clarke Swayze, editor of the most rabid and mischievous Radical paper in the State, has been appointed Postmaster for that city.

MADISON HOUSE.—We call attention to the card, in another column, of the Madison House, at Madison, kept by that prince of hotel-keepers, Randolph Ross. A gentleman connected with this paper, who is a fac simile of good living, says that Colonel Ross not only knows how, but keeps a first-class hotel, and having known him from boyhood, he regards him as one of the most clever, high minded gentlemen on the American continent. The house has been furnished with new and elegant furniture, and its accommodations are second to none in the State. Families desiring to spend the summer months in the up country will find Madison a healthy and pleasant place, and ample accommodation at the Madison House.

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.—This company, by its reliability, its liberal features, and its patriotic object, is achieving a success unparallelled in the annals of Insurance. In the past four days this company received seventy-six applications, and issued policies amounting to over $375,000. We take pleasure in chronicling the success of this company, and in recommending it to the public. Gen. John B. Gordon is the President.

Wando Fertilizer!

THE WANDO MIXING AND MANUFACTURING COMPANY offers to the Planters and Farmers of the South their FERTILIZER known as the

"WANDO FERTILIZER,"

Which the experience of the past season has proved to be one of the most valuable to our market. It has for its base the materials from the Phosphate Beds of the Company, on Ashley River, and is prepared at their works at the

DR. JOHN BULL'S Great Remedies.

DR. JOHN BULL,

Manufacturer and Vendor of the Celebrated

Smith's Tonic Syrup,

AGUE AND FEVER,

—OR—

Chills and Fever.

The proprietor of this celebrated medicine justly claims for it a superiority over all remedies ever offered to the public for the safe, certain, speedy and permanent cure of Ague and Fever, or Chills and Fever, whether of short or long standing. He refers to the entire Western and Southwestern country to bear him testimony to the truth of the assertion, that in no case whatever will it fail to cure, if the directions are strictly followed and carried out. In a great many cases a single dose has been sufficient for a cure, and whole families have been cured by a single bottle, with a perfect restoration of the general health. It is, however, prudent, and in every case more certain to cure, if its use is continued in smaller doses for a week or two after the disease has been checked, more especially in difficult and long-standing cases. Usually, this medicine will not require any aid to keep the bowels in good order; should the patient, however, require a cathartic medicine, after having taken three or four doses of the Tonic, a dose of BULL'S VEGETABLE FAMILY PILLS will be sufficient.

Bull's Worm Destroyer.

To my United States and World-wide Readers.

I have received many testimonials from professional and medical men, as my almanacs and various publications have shown all of which are genuine. The following letter from a highly educated and popular physician in Georgia, is certainly one of the most sensible communications I have ever received. Dr. Clement knows exactly what he speaks of, and his testimony deserves to be written in letters of gold. Hear what the Doctor says of BULL'S WORM DESTROYER:

VILLANOW, Walker Co., Ga., June 29, 1866.

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: I have recently given your "Worm Destroyer" several trials, and find it wonderfully efficacious. It has not failed in a single instance to have the wished for effect. I am doing a pretty large country practice, and have daily use for some article of the kind. I am free to confess that I know of no remedy recommended by the ablest authors that is so certain and speedy in its effects. On the contrary, they are uncertain in the extreme. My object in writing you is to find out upon what terms I can get the medicine direct from you. If I can get it upon easy terms, I shall use a great deal of it. I am aware that the use of such articles is contrary to the teachings and practice of a great majority of the regular line M. D's, but I see no just cause or good sense in discarding a remedy which we know to be efficient, simply because we may be ignorant of its combination. For my part, I shall make it a rule to use all and any means to alleviate suffering humanity which I may be able to command—not hesitating because some one more ingenious than myself may have learned its effects first, and secured the sole right to secure that knowledge. However, I am by no means an advocate or supporter of the thousands of worthless nostrums that flood the country, that purport to cure all manner of disease to which human flesh is heir. Please reply soon, and inform me of your best terms. I am, sir, most respectfully,

JULIUS P. CLEMENT M. D.

Bull's Sarsaparilla.

A Good Reason for the Captain's Faith.

READ THE CAPTAIN'S LETTER AND THE LETTER FROM HIS MOTHER.

BENTON BARRACKS, Mo., April 30 1866

DR. JOHN BULL—Dear Sir: Knowing the efficiency of your Sarsaparilla and the healing and beneficial qualities it possesses, I send you the following statement of my case.

I was wounded two years ago—was taken prisoner and confined for sixteen months. Being moved so often, my wounds have not healed yet. I have not set up a moment since I was wounded. I am shot through the hips. My general health is impaired, and I need something to assist nature. I have more faith in your sarsaparilla than in anything else. I wish that it is genuine. Have Charity.

BY FRANCIS B. SMITH.

Through the great, sin blasted city
Tolls a homeless little one—
Not a friend to soothe or pity—
Not a bed to lie upon.
Ragged, dirty, bruised and bleeding,
Subject still to kick and curse,
Schooled in sin and sadly needing
Aid from Christian tongue and purse.

But the rich and gay pass by her,
Full of vanity and pride,
And a pittance they deny her,
As they pull their skirts aside.
Then a sudden mood comes o'er,
Reckless she of woe or weal;
Death from hunger is before her--
She must either starve or steal.

She does steal, and who can blame her,
Hunger pangs her vitals gnaw—
None endeavor so reclaim her,
And she violates the law;
Then, the pampered child of fashion,
Who refused to give relief,
Cries, with well affected passion,
"Out upon the little thief!"

Censors full of world-wise schooling,
Cease to censure and deplore—
When the girl transgressed man's ruling
She obeyed a higher law.
Take her place—feel her temptation—
Starved, unhoused—no succor nigh--
And, though sure of reprobation,
Ye would steal ere ye would die!

Crops in the South.

We greatly fear (says the New Orleans Picayune) that our planting friends will this year, neglect that which made them at the beginning of it, so much more independent than ever before, since the time before the speculative era of 1836, when farming on a credit was rare, if not unknown.

It was not the making a fair crop of cotton in 1868, which gave the planter money in his purse, nor even the fact that his merchant could make him no advances beyond the amount needed to bale his cotton and get it to market, which placed him out of his usual embarrassment, but because he had raised all his food on his place and had none to buy, either for his hands or his animals.

Had the cotton crop failed, as it may do this year, leaving him nevertheless a full supply of home-raised food, he would still have been untrammelled by the costs and charges for rent and subsistence which beset his merchant and the city resident generally. If the crop fails this year what will be his condition? More than ever will it be difficult for him to get credit wherewith to buy food; for advances on crops are no longer regarded as legitimate and prudent in commerce.

There is more money to be made by raising food along with cotton, than by raising cotton alone, even when food is ever so cheap and plentiful in the West, because of the expense of getting it to the plantation; so that where there is a certainty of making the cotton hoped for it is wiser and better to raise a proper proportion of corn and other food with it.

But when we reflect how uncertain cotton is, from the planting of the seed to the final sale of it, and that it has more enemies than any other thing which man raises; how near akin to gambling it is to depend upon it, we must see how unwise it is to raise cotton exclusively, or nearly so, and not to have a more stable dependence for life and its support.

Nay, the men who have got rich in planting in this country, who have stayed rich and died rich, have always raised a full support in other things, and have made their cotton crop a surplus one. They have never lost by raising cotton, but whenever that crop has proved a good one, have laid up every dollar made by it.

We write thus because we hear daily of men who are about to put in cotton all the land they can plant at all, trusting to luck and the corn they have over for a supply of food; and letting next year take care of itself. They will find their store of corn run out before June or July, and next year, should the worm come to their cotton this season, they will be in deep distress and want, and if the worm should not come, they will be compelled to spend half its proceeds to buy provisions.

On the other hand, if they will make a full crop of provisions, their cotton, if a success, will be so much clear money in their pockets, and if it be a failure, this will nevertheless not interfere with their solvency and independence.

THE LAWYERS IN A FLUTTER—COURTS STOPPED.—There was a great commotion yesterday in all the courts, growing out of the late tax law, which imposes a penalty of $500 upon all judges who permit lawyers without license to practice before them. Several of the judges declined proceeding with cases until some definite decision could be arrived at relative to the effect if said lawyers exhibited their tax receipts, but the licenses not having been printed, could not be furnished. Several declared that they did not know of the existence of the law. Others declared that the law was palpably unconstitutional, and that the judge could not be required to perform any but judicial duties. Judges Leaumont and Cooley thought it best to suspend proceedings in their courts. Judge Collins, however, determined to continue trials and give parties a fair opportunity of complying with the law. In the Supreme Court the Attorney General moved that ten days be allowed to the members of the bar to comply with the requirements of the law.

Judge Cooley, having intimated his indisposition to incur a fine, even under a law which was not constitutional, one of the lawyers proposed that the bar should indemnify the Judge against all risks of prosecution and penalty. The Judge, however, could not see it, and was not ambitious of figuring in a penal prosecution, even though backed by the whole bar. The general result was a syncope of justice, and an outpouring of legal wrath, the like of which was never seen or heard before. The Republic was never in so great peril of utter destruction and extinction. Justice fairly screamed in agony and wrath. Clerks looked unutterable things. Deputy sheriffs were rather pleased at the cessation of their labors, and at the great disgust manifested by the lawyers. Clients who were plaintiffs thought it devilish hard that they should be delayed in their rights by the delinquency or impecuniosity of their attorneys, and chaos reigned throughout the halls of justice. N. O. Times, 18th.

THE OYSTER TRADE OF NEW YORK.—The headquarters of the wholesale oyster trade is at the foot of Christopher street, two miles from the Battery. Here about twenty-five large barges are moored, all of which have covered decks. These belong to planters, who are daily supplied from their beds, and there are about two hundred schooners employed in the transportation. These boats cost about eight dollars per day. One may thus perceive that the wholesale oyster trade is no bagatelle. There are men who will plant fifty thousand dollars worth of oysters and wait three years for their return, and there are some parties in this trade who wield a capital of a quarter of million of dollars. The patriarch of the oyster trade, Elisha Ruckman, is said to be worth a half million. He is now retired from active business.

Oyster dealers claim that these fish are good at all seasons, and the letter R has no influence upon their quality, this prejudice, according to their view, being absurd and baseless. The best season for trade is the holidays, and next to that is Lent. At the present time therefore the oyster trade is very lively. The most successful saloon in New York is Willard's, on Broadway, where about one hundred bushels are opened daily, a half dozen hands being employed in this work. Willard is no doubt getting rich very fast, and other saloons are succeeding at a proportionate rate. An active hand can open eight hundred in an hour, or about a dozen a minute. While speaking of oysters, it must be remembered that the shells also have a value. Such is the demand for fertilizers in New Jersey that it will pay to take the shells there and burn them.

The cotton factory at Water Valley, Miss., will be completed in time to commence operations this summer.

DARBY'S
Prophylactic Fluid.

Letter from Hon. Alex. H. Stephens, of Georgia.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, GA., Sept. 29th, 1869.

Darby's Prophylactic Fluid is an article of little cost, but great value. Its domestic as well as medical uses are numerous, while its specialities are most wonderful. I have not been without it for ten years, and no head of a family who can afford to have it should be without it.

ALEX. H STEPHENS.

The Wonderful Family Medicine.

Letter from the Surgeon General of the late Confederate States.

RICHMOND, VA., Jan'y 14, 1868.

John Darby & Co., No. 160 William St., N. Y.

Gentlemen: I have received your letter of the 15th of December, 1866, calling my attention to your (Darby's Prophylatic) Fluid.

I most cheerfully state that the Fluid was furnished to, and extensively used by the Surgeons in charge of General Hospitals in the Confederate service with great benefit to the patients—all the surgeons making a favorable report—a great deal of it was used in the hospitals.

Very respectfully, your ob't serv't,

SAM'L PRESTON MOORE, M. D.

THE ASTONISHING
DISINFECTANT.

EMERY COLLEGE, OXFORD, GA.,
December 28th, 1868.

Prof. Darby: Dear Sir—Having not been engaged for many years in the active duties of the Medical Profession, I am only superficially acquainted with the claims of your Prophylatic Fluid, but am well acquainted with its chemical elements.

While, therefore, I cannot speak experimentally of the value of the compound, yet the disinfecting and Therapeutic properties of the agents employed in its composition, together with the well known reputation of its discoverer, as a chemist, authorize me to regard its merits as of a high order;—on the whole it must be considered as a valuable contribution to the class of articles to which it belongs.

These views, I may add, are sustained by the testimony of many competent judges, who have tested its properties.

Believe me, dear sir, yours respectfully,

A. MEANS, M.D., LL.D.

CURES
Burns, Wounds, Stings, &c.

ALABAMA INSANE HOSPITAL,
TUSCALOOSA, December 22, 1868.

Messrs. John Darby & Co., 160 William St., N. Y.

Gentlemen: I received your Circulars of the 10th inst., asking an expression of opinion from me as to the merits of your Prophylatic Fluid. The preparation has been so generally used by the profession and public at large, and so universally esteemed, that it seems to me to need no further recommendation.

As a Disinfectant, and remedial agent too, when indicated, it is not excelled by any similar preparation. We use per-manganic preparations very extensively in this Hospital, and could not do without them. I consider yours the best and most elegant preparation of the kind manufactured. Respectfully yours, &c.,

P. BRYCE, M. D.,
Sup't and Phys'n Ala. Insane Hospital.

A Perfect Pain Killer.

WESLEYAN FEMALE COLLEGE,
STAUNTON, VA., Jan. 9, 1869.

Prof. Darby:—When I was President of the LaGrange Female College of Georgia, I used your Prophylactic Fluid in the College with decided success. Both as a disinfectant and as a remedy for sores and burns, etc, it was efficacious and proved to be what it is represented. Every family and public Institution ought to have it. I wish you great success in the sale of it.

WM. A. HARRIS, D.D.
Pres. W. F. College, Staunton, Va.

Never was there a family medicine so highly recommended as this. Try it and you will never regret it.

Let every country merchant visiting New York this Spring put this article in his list. But dont wait—Order at once.

And so we might fill this entire paper with recommendations from the very best men in the country.

There is no question that this is a most wonderful and useful article as a disinfectant, and for wounds, sores, burns, poisons, colic, as a tooth wash, general purifier, &c., &c.

Every Druggist or Country Merchant has it for sale.

TESTIMONIALS:

We select the following extracts for the benefit of those who have not used Rhodes' "Standard" Manure:

S. Wyatt, Esq., of Allington Plantation, near Waynesboro, Ga., writes as follows to Messrs. B M. Rhodes & Co.:

"Your Phosphate I am highly delighted with; I gave it a fair trial along with several other Standard Manures, and I regard it fully equal if not superior to the best of them. On one field of 100 acres, that I am sure would not, in its natural state, have produced over 400 lbs. of seed cotton to the acre, I have already gathered 700 pounds, and think I shall get fully 900 pounds more.

"Two other fields of 100 acres, better land, I have gathered, at two pickings, over 1,000 pounds to the acre of seed cotton, and think I shall get 200 pounds more.

"I tried it, also, on corn, and found it very good, but not equal in its results to the cotton crop. Several of my neighbors, whose lands adjoin my own, and is pretty much the same character of land, who used no fertilizer at all, have signally failed, making no more than half a crop, if so much as that. Where I applied Rhodes' Phosphate the cotton was heavily fruited, bolls larger, the staple longer, stouter and better than where none was used, so much so that any one, even though he may never have seen the growth before, could readily see it. The only objection to it is, it causes the cotton to open faster than we can possibly gather it—at least, such is my experience."

T. C. Howard, Esq., of Darien, Ga., writes as follows:

"It is proper that I should say the results of the use of your fertilizer have been very marked and indeed surprising. I have made more cotton by its aid on worn out land, that has not been in cultivation in two years past, than I have been able to do on the best swamp or bottom land on my place in Mississippi."

ATHENS, Ga., January 23, 1869.

Messrs. P. P. Pease & Co., Atlanta: I applied the two tons of Rhodes' Super-Poosphate, which you furnished me last year, at the rate of 400 pounds to the acre, on thin land, considerably exhausted by continued cultivation, without manure, and have no hesitation in saying that it has excellent fertilizer for cotton. On the eight acres to which I applied it, I picked upwards of 6,000 pounds of seed cotton—more than double what the land would have produced without the fertilizer. It is also proper to mention, that while the caterpillars stripped all the leaves and young bolls off an adjoining patch, manured with Dickson's Mixture, commencing their ravages in August, they did not attack that manured with Rhodes' Super-Phosphate until the first week in October.

WILLIAM M. BROWNE.

Thousands of certificates and letters could be published, showing the value of Rhodes' "Standard," a quick and permanent fertilizer.

For Sale at Auction!

THE BEST

HOTEL PROPERTY

IN THE SOUTHERN STATES.

I WILL offer for sale at auction, on the 16th day of April, next, on the premises, the property known as the WASHINGTON HALL PROPERTY, situated in the city of Atlanta, State of Georgia. Atlanta is located near the geographical centre of the State, and is at present the termination of four of the principal railroads of the South, viz.: the Western and Atlantic, passing through the mountains, and over which passes the produce and passengers of the Great West to Atlanta, and from Atlanta diverges the Georgia Railroad, leading to Augusta and Charleston, S. C.; the Macon and Western Railroad, connecting at Macon with the Central Railroad leading to Savannah, and the West Point and Montgomery railroad, leading to Montgomery and Mobile, Ala. There are also two other railroads in contemplation, viz., the Atlanta and Jacksonville Railroad, which is to be put under contract very soon, connecting with a road running to Decatur, Ala., and then connecting with the great Memphis and Charleston Railroad, forming a direct line from Memphis to Charleston, S. C., through Atlanta. The Air Line Railroad Company has lately been organized, and the work commenced and will soon be completed, forming an Air Line Railroad direct from New York to New Orleans. The Air Line from New York to Atlanta, connecting then with the West Point and Montgomery, forming the Air Line road to New Orleans, makes Atlanta the terminus of seven of the most important railroads in the Southern States. Atlanta, beside being a great railroad centre, is now the permanent capital of the State, and is unsurpassed for health, delightful climate and good water, by any city either North or South, and its rapid growth, (having increased in population in less than three years from 6,000 to 28,000, and increasing in wealth in proportion, both of which is without parallel in the history of any Southern city, or very few of any other country), should be satisfactory evidence that capital cannot be more profitably invested anywhere than in Atlanta. The great want of a hotel of sufficient capacity to accommodate travelers that pass through Atlanta is still further evidence that it is the place of all others to invest capital in Hotel Keeping. The Washington Hall Property is most admirably located for that business, being situated within 60 feet of, and fronting upon the beautiful Park, and only 80 feet from the passenger Depot, thereby saving omnibus fare or expense of moving baggage; and fronting 160 feet upon the Park, and extending 300 feet upon the Georgia railroad right of way, and being within 100 feet of the geographical centre of the city, and also of the business centre, makes it every way the most desirable unimproved property in the South for hotel purposes. The property will be sold on one third cash and the balance on six and twelve months. There is no place in the country, North or South, where building can be done cheaper than in Atlanta. The titles to the above property are indisputable, and the sale will be positive. WM. MARKHAM.

HOW TO UTILIZE THE OAK FORESTS

—OF THE—

SOUTHERN STATES.

THE Undersigned is now ready to grant Licences or to sell Factory or Territorial rights for the use of his Improved Appliances for the Manufacture of Imperishable Concentrated Extract from Oak Bark, for Tanning and Coloring purposes, requiring them for either a small royalty or a reasonable consideration for excelsior rights.

A Factory complete in all its appointments, capable of manufacturing 50 barrels of Extract every 24 hours—will cost Eight Thousand Dollars, not including cost of motive power, which may be of Steam or Water, and of 25 Horse Power.

A Factory of half the capacity, or 25 bbls per 24 hours, will cost Five Thousand Dollars. While a Factory capable of producing from 12 to 15 bbls per day—will cost, not to exceed Three Thousand Dollars.

The above estimates include cost of Building, Tanks—which are of wood—Mill, Condensing Appliances, and every requisite save motive power, which may be of Water or Steam, and of from 15 to 20 horse power as per capacity of Factory.

These new devices for Manufacturing Concentrated Extract are in practical use, and have the endorsement of the best judges as being the most perfect, simple and cheapest in use.

Competent men will be provided for putting these Factories in operation for those to whom licences may be granted. All particulars may be learned by addressing,

Hogansville High School!

THIS institution offers the following advantages to young ladies and gentlemen who wish to attend a first-class school:

BOARD can be had in splendid families at $12 per month.

TUITION $3 to $5 per month—payable in advance. Every member of the Faculty is a thorough and experienced teacher.

We teach all day, and hence our pupils make about double the progress of students at other schools.

We teach Scientific Book-Keeping and the higher branches of Mathematics practically, on Saturdays, without extra charge.

Instead of crowding the MEMORY with facts and theories only, we succeed in bringing out and developing the REASONING FACULTIES.

The society is unsurpassed and the locality very healthy. Boarding rooms can be had very near the Seminary building, and at first-class houses.

Lastly, we have already a large, flourishing school, and, therefore, do not find it necessary to receive rowdy boys or idle girls in our classes. Hence, to receive admission, students must come well recommended as to morals, studious habits, &c. The present term will close the last of June.
